Concept Write Up

Inspired by the idea of quotations which keeps us going on, I've come up a set of inspirational cards for the pupils in my school. Engaging on intensive scheduled classes and the competition during major examinations, many gets overly drained coping with them. With the never-dying support and reminders of success from my principal, teachers, family, and peers, I believe I'll be able to go through these things with flying colours.

With all that I've received, I feel that the idea of sharing is able to touch individuals even with the need to reach them personally with my voices. In these series of cards, several ideal presentations of how I feel about Singapore has been illustrated.

In brief, they suggest:

- Heart shape represents that friendship is the second-best to love.
- Peace sign represents PEACE and HARMONY.
- Education that keeps us moving forward and advanced.

Hence, with one quotation a day, it keeps all worries and sadness away, and it'll be a happy day! Let's look forward an ever better Singapore! Happy birthday!
